

Professional English workshop

Brush up your grammar

Put off by English grammar, or just putting off learning it? Do you want to ‘explain your boss’ or “explain to your boss”? And what’s the difference between “My sister’s friend’s investments”, “My sister’s friends’ investments”, “My sisters’ friend’s investments” and “My sisters’ friends’ investments? If just thinking about apostrophes makes you dizzy, maybe you need to refresh your grammar.

This workshop aims to help you confidently speak and write in English for professional purposes by helping you recognise and correct those annoying grammar mistakes. In a small class setting, we’ll:

- identify the typical mistakes you make in English,
- correct the mistakes together using classroom exercises,
- review other common common grammar pitfalls,
- practise, practise, practise so that you can
- PERFECT your English.

Trainer:	Spring Gombe-Götz
No. of hours:	8
Dates:	Tuesdays: 4 x 2 lessons 11 th , 18 th , 25 th November and 2 nd December 2014
Time:	17:30 – 19:00
Room:	C-Building, Room 1.21 (and Room 1.20 on 18 th November)
Registration:	Please register by email to Stephanie Ashford at ashford@dhbw-vs.de , stating your name and your department/faculty (Studiengang/Fakultät) by Wednesday, 5th November 2014

Note: The maximum number of students for this course is 20.